1993 Bulldog

Who is this foxy lady, or man?? It's none other than Mr. Nobbe, showing his Halloween spirit. Students found it hard to keep a straight face in his classes.

Showing their spirit for Homecoming, junior Carrie Cregar and senior Andrea Collins dress up as hippies from the 1960's.

What do you call this place? A way of life? An educational institution? Don't call it anything except Batesville High School.

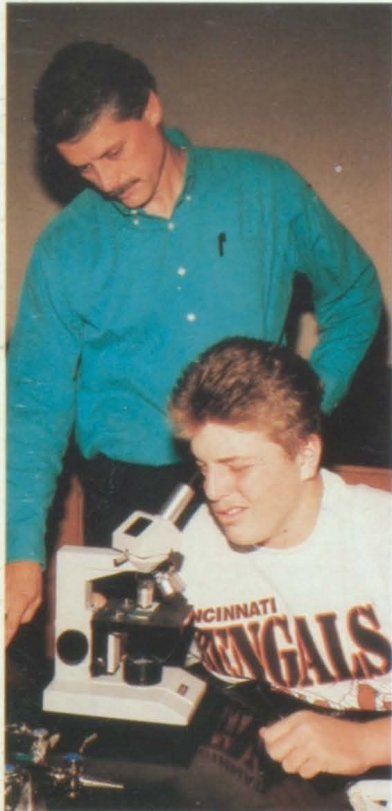

Please don't shoot! Paul Richardson, sophomore, practices his archery technique in P.E.

CALL IT WHAT YOU WANT

Imagine you're shopping with a friend. You're becoming thirsty; so you ask him if he wants to get a pop. He looks at you and asks, "Do you mean a soda?" You strangely look at him and you answer back, "Yeah, I guess." You two decide to buy a few more things. After you're rung up at the register, the clerk asks you if you want your groceries in a bag. Seriously you question her if she means a sack. Smiling, she shakes her head.

So many times people communicate with one another but become frustrated because they don't share the exact words. Instead of becoming bothered by the different ways to call something, use it as a growing experience. It might help to realize that each of us is different and the way we call some objects reflects our personalities and the way we were raised. So don't be afraid to "Call It What You Want."

-Wendy Wonning

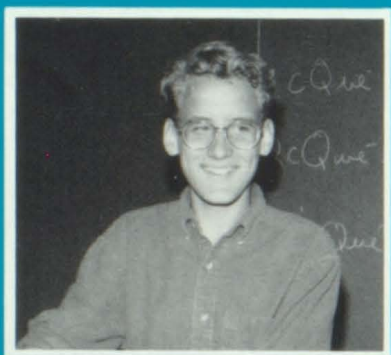

Can you see it? Freshman Matt West tries to identify some paramecium in biology, while Mr. Zimmerman carefully observes him.

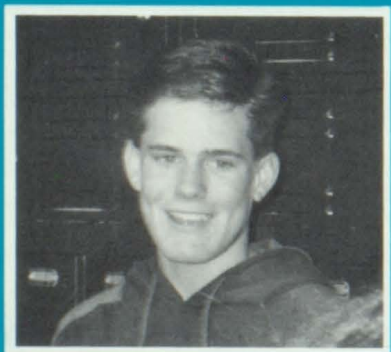

Some students were chosen to describe B.H.S. in a positive manner. "It's a great place to learn."

-Phillip Moenter

"B.H.S. is a school full of dedication, spirit, and helpful people. This is what makes our school better than the rest!"

-Brad Brougner

"People at BHS are nice."

-Ben Bellman

Here at our high school you look around and find that there are many different types of people. From the type of style of clothing to the kind of music, each person has his or her own individual taste. Just "Call Us Crazy", but the truth is we are all part of the chain of fads and fashions and the change of music from day to day.

Brian Perry of the senior class states, "Grateful Dead and Led Zepplin rule, and wear what you like if you want to be cool!"

Nathan Schutte of the junior class was asked his favorite music and style. He replied, "Heavy Metal is cool, business suits are 'stylin'."

As you can see, there are many different attitudes; everyone is different from one another. Let's all show our own unique individuality. Let's be a little crazy."

-Wendy Wonning, Chantel Shane

Where's Andy? Mandy McPherson, alias Raggedy Ann, shows that her naturally red hair and freckles add to her Halloween costume.

Calling them crazy would be a compliment. Seniors Pegeen Gordon, Brant Stoner, Wendy Wonning, and Julie Meyer show that friendship can last even through the weird times.

How do you plan for a party? Kelli Tuggle explains how to throw a luau for her speech class. Kelli has many different ideas for planning something fun to do.

Call 'Em What You Want

While walking down the halls of BHS, it is not unusual to hear people being called by their nicknames. Our generation isn't the first to be marked with nicknames, and it certainly won't be the last. Just think back to the days of Elvis Presley, "the King", or Bruce Springsteen, "the Boss". The list is endless. There have been many famous and not so famous people who have been tagged with a nickname. No one really knows how nicknames came about, but they usually come from friends or family. People pick out some characteristics about others or something they have done, and before they know it, their lifelong identity has taken a dramatic turn. Batesville has a wide variety of nicknames and plenty of reasons to go along with them. Take a look for yourself.

A Stroll Down Main Street

Once again this year's Homecoming parade was a tremendous success. At 5:30 p.m. all of the floats, cars, tractors, and people were ready to go. The 1992 theme was "A Stroll Through Our Royal Kingdom." This theme played a big part in the Homecoming festivities, especially the float competition. The senior class was hoping to defend their title, but the junior class still came out on top with the first place finish.

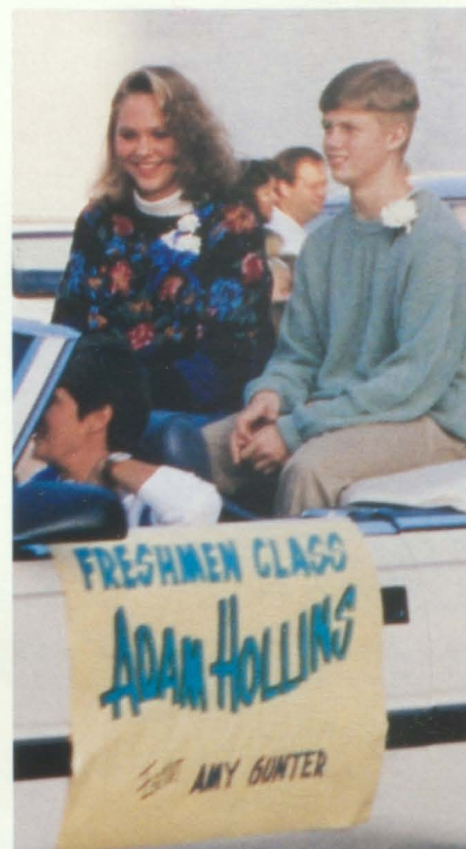

The floats weren't the only eye-catching part of the parade. There were over one hundred entries in this year's parade. Thanks to all the students', parents', and businesses' hard work, the Homecoming parade continues to be a great success.

-Kelli Tuggle

Auxiliary Corp members Julie Meyer and Heather Goldsmith keep their flags flying high throughout the parade.

Freshman prince candidate Adam Hollins and his escort, Amy Gunter, enjoy their ride in the parade.

This year the seniors were hailing to the juniors after their defeat in the float competition.

The Class of '94 did indeed royally flush the seniors at this year's float competition.

Sophomores Jonathan Walsman and Jill Cochran look on to the end of the parade.

Brad Wolters and his escort, Jennifer Westfeld, are happy to see familiar faces in the crowd.

The Boys Cross Country team proudly rides in the parade.

Bulldogs Prepare For Battle

To kick off Homecoming Week 1992, Student Council organized different activities to get students involved. All students got the chance to show their support for the Bulldogs by dressing up for the different Spirit Days. This year Spirit Week consisted of College Shirt and Hat Day, Hippie Day, Slob Day, Bandana and Sucker Day, and the traditional Blue and White Day. Many students took part and showed the Bulldogs that they were behind them in their upcoming battle with the Lawrenceburg Tigers.

Friday proved to be a beautiful day for the traditional Powder Puff game. Students were released to the football field to watch the girls battle it out at 2:30 pm. Although both teams played hard, there was no victor. A tie between the junior and senior class in the Powder Puff marked the end of the Homecoming activities.

-Beth Hunter

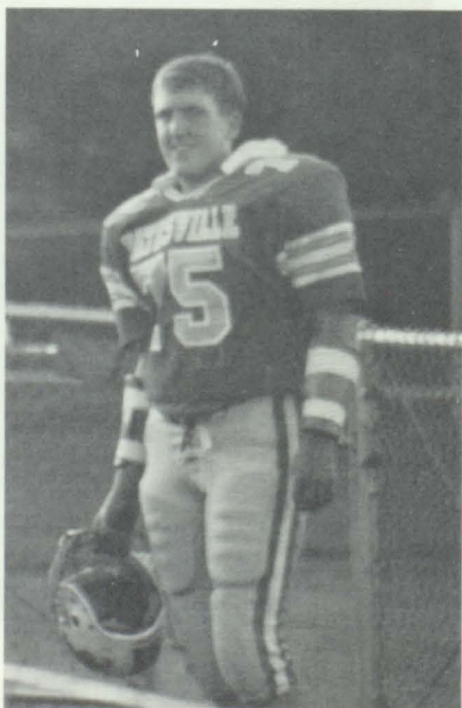

Jen Rentzel and Kallie Maxel are looking on to Coach Ferguson for guidance during the Powder Puff game.

Homecoming Week does not affect the studious efforts of Juniors Corey Blschoff, Aaron Lewis, and Kurt Obermeyer.

Questioning the call, senior Amanda Laker raises her arms in denial.

Chris Nobbe: a prime example of school spirit on College Shirt and Hat Day.

The Junior class Powder Puff team awaits the start of the game.

Posing for pictures never gets old for our Homecoming king and queen, Gary Weisenbach and Wendy Wonning.

Kenton Heinlein and Jessica Pohlman can hardly wait for the outcome.

The Juniors were represented by Beth Hunter with escort Eric Vicars.

And the winners are . . . Wendy Wonning, Gary Weisenbach, Brad Wolters and Angle Menser.

And The Winner Is...

Jennifer Rockwood, along with Jack Bonelli, anxiously await the crowning of the court.

The moment we all waited for was upon us, the highlight of the halftime show. The candidates as well as the crowd waited with anticipation for the announcement of the 1992-93 Homecoming court.

As the band played "One Moment In Time," the court walked down the track. The court consisted of freshmen princess candidates Kendra Koch, escorted by prince candidate Nathan Pohlman, and Jennifer Rockwood, escorted by Jack Bonelli. The other prince candidate was Adam Hollins, escorted by Amy Gunter.

The sophomores represented their class with prince candidate Jonathan Walsman, escorted by Jill Cochran and Josh Pohlman, escorted by Katie Amos. The princess candidates were Rebecca Ballou, escorted by Ben Bellman, and Kelly Moeller, escorted by David Shane.

The junior class was proudly represented by princess candidates Beth Hunter, escorted by Eric Vicars, and Angie Menser, escorted by prince candidate Doug Obermeyer. The other prince candidate, Brad Wolters, was escorted by Jennifer Westerfeld.

To add to all of the excitement of the night was the king and queen candidates, who anxiously awaited its outcome. The king candidates were Kenton Heinlein, escorted by Jessica Pohlman; Jeff Schwegman escorted by Amanda Laker; and Gary Welsenbach, who was escorted by Sandy Shook. The queen candidates were Jenna Meyer, escorted by Jason Kuisel; Suzi Schumacker, escorted by Erick Hornberger; and Wendy Wanning was escorted by Hans Ritter.

To end the halftime festivities the Homecoming court was announced. The 1992-93 queen was Wendy Wanning and the king was Gary Welsenbach. The princess was Angie Menser and the prince was Brad Wolters. Although the eventful halftime was a success, the Bulldogs were defeated by Lawrenceburg.

-Heather Koester

The Class of '95 was proudly represented by prince candidate Josh Pohlman, escorted by Katie Amos.

As always, the Bulldog Band sounds great during Homecoming festivities.

"I've met people here that have the same interest as I do that I wouldn't have met in elementary or middle school."

-Kevin Wright

"I am comfortable about going here."

-Chris Rollins

"It's different from other schools. Basically everyone gets along."

-Rhonda Hamer

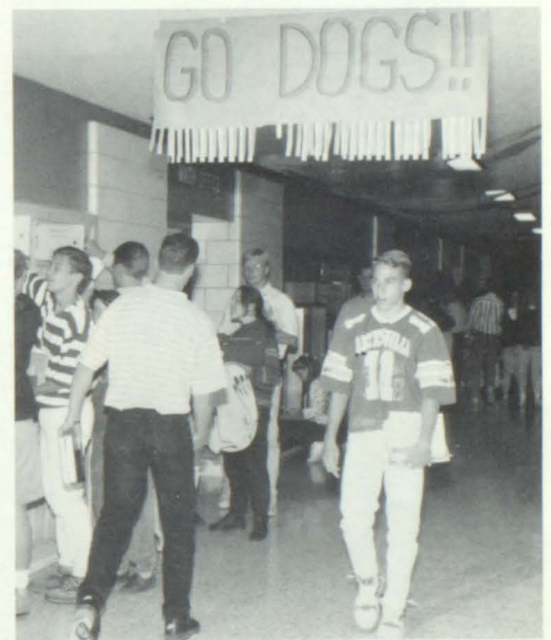

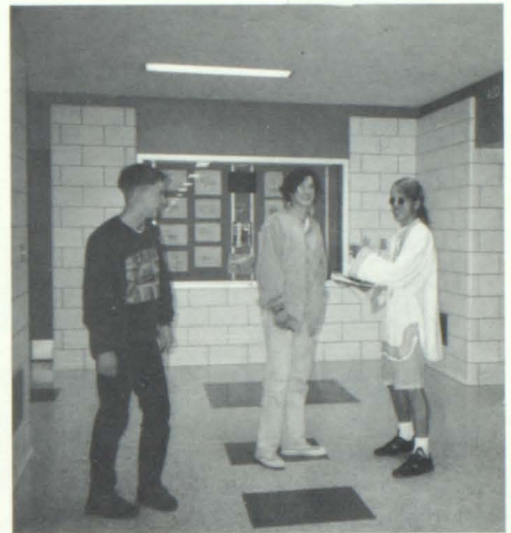

These four years at Batesville High School were the most memorable times of our lives. Remembering from when we were beginning freshmen, we were all afraid of the upperclassmen. Then becoming sophomores, just adjusting to the high school life was easier. Soon after, we found that we were juniors ready to take the big step to become seniors. We finally became seniors; then we wondered how the school years went by so rapidly.

Soon our high school years will be finished with just memories of all the times we had here. From when we were the frightened freshmen looking up at all the other classes to those seniors looking at all the lower classes, we realize how much we have grown and learned.

From music to fashion, many things have changed, but the memories will always be the same. Remember that there is only one you. Call it what you want; "Call It Your Own."

-Wendy Wanning, Chantel Shane

Although it's class time, Corey Dixon, Rolf Fokt, and Chris Rollins are out and about the school. Chris is dressed as a Hippie for Spirit Week.

Sophomore Josh Pohlman passes through the senior hallway to get to his next class. The hallways show the spirit of Homecoming Week.

UNFORGETTABLE-THAT'S WHAT WE ARE

As our high school years come to an end, our class has united as one. Now as everyone prepares to go their own way, we look back at the good and bad times of our past years.

Freshman year was the first and most exciting year of high school. Everybody got a chance to meet new people, look forward to new experiences, take new classes, and gain more responsibility.

Sophomore year is when everybody has already gotten used to high school and we were ready to plan our future. We started looking forward to all of the high school upcoming events.

Finally the time came; we were considered upperclassmen. Instead of looked down upon we were looked up to. A lot of responsibility came along with being a junior. We had to take the ACT test and start thinking about colleges that we want to apply to. Some fun things that we looked forward to also took place like the junior/senior prom. We planned the prom and decided on the theme "Wonderful Tonight." One other activity that is for upperclassmen was the powder puff. As juniors we went on the field with the attitude of winning; however, we were defeated.

In our final year of all being together there was a lot of things to be done. The number one thing on everyone's list was college and what he or she was going to do after high school. Then there was getting the cap, gown, and invitations taken care of. This was the Class of '93's last time for the prom, the last time for us to play in the powder puff, and the last and only time we will all have been brought together at graduation. The Class of '93' has a lot of good memories together.

As freshmen, the Class of '93 was considered a strange class; however, as seniors, we left as the best. The Class of '93 came a long way to get where they are today. So no matter where we go or what we will be, we will always be the Class of '93.

We're On Our Way

What can be said about the "junior year?"

It is set aside from all the rest. Freshmen are just starting to get the hang of things, as where sophomores are beginning to relax, and look forward to the future years. Seniors have made their decisions about the future, and are waiting for the time when they can venture out into the "real world." Juniors, on the other hand, are faced with many challenges and tasks throughout the year.

Not only were the juniors kept busy preparing for prom, but many of them spent long hours working concessions at football and basketball games to help raise money for other class activities. The class worked hard to create a unique float entitled "Gonna Be A Royal Flush." Their efforts were rewarded when they received first place in the float competition.

Among the other activities of the juniors were attending college fair to help them realize the many schools and opportunities that lie ahead. Also, many took the SAT's during the year.

Although it was a challenging year, it is the hope of many, if not all, to move on to their senior year and to take the memories and experiences of the past with them into the future as they begin their independent lives.

The sophomore class, along with their class sponsor, Miss Meyer, had a successful fundraiser selling jewelry. The sophomores' excitement this year consisted of their fundraiser for raising money for prom, building their float, and taking part in the athletic events here at BHS. The most exciting time in their high school days is getting their driver's license. This class is looking forward to becoming upper-classmen and planning Prom 1994.

Learning the Ropes

As always, the freshman class had many adjustments to make, whether it be finding their classes, memorizing new locker combinations, or just learning the ropes of B.H.S.

Under the direction of their class sponsors, Miss Heim, Mr. Koors, and Mrs. Westerfeld, the ninth graders had a tremendous fundraiser for their first go-round. Their fundraiser consisted of selling candy and other general Christmas gifts.

This year's freshman class has added extra enthusiasm to the atmosphere here at B.H.S. Many of them have joined various clubs and organizations. The class has shown avid interest in the sporting events.

Although this year was full of its ups and downs, the Class of '96 has three more exciting years to look forward to here. Keep up the enthusiasm; your best years are yet to come.

New Principal Takes Charge

During the 1992-93 school year, the faculty and staff worked under the direction of a new principal. Mr. Sagester has had many years of experience in the field of education. In 1969 he started his first job as an English teacher at Batesville High School. Mr. Sagester went on to teach at Milan and Princeton High Schools. He had previous experience as a principal at Batesville Middle School. When asked about her new boss, Mrs. Seright commented, "Mr. Sagester is a leader who is respected by both the faculty and the student body." Mr. Zimmerman also mentioned, "Mr. Sagester has a lot of experience in education and has lived in Batesville so the transition was smooth."

Four faculty members at Batesville High School organized a new project called Tech Prep. The object of Tech Prep is to prepare students for the work force. Tech Prep, a statewide project, is expected to be incorporated into the high school curriculum by the fall of 1994.

How do students take breaks from their studies? Some listen to the radio, talk on the phone, or watch television. If none of that appeals to the senses, one could get involved. Their purposes range from helping to prepare for the future to making the future happen today by getting a job. Basically, there is something for everyone.

Colleges and employment agencies look for involvement in clubs and organizations as well as good grades in academics. They believe that if one is involved in school activities, one is more likely to get involved in the job or studies.

Since Batesville does not offer many activities for teenagers to do after school, students get involved with clubs to occupy their free time. Kim Mehan has said, "I enjoy having something to do after school and being able to get to know other students and faculty members on a personal level."

Call It Wordly

Hola! Ciao! Bonjour! Gutentag! Hello! Welcome to a world of new experience with international flavor. That's what Batesville High School's International Club is all about.

This year's club was very involved in many activities. The members visited several foreign restaurants, including Chi Chi's, Olive Garden, and Forest View Gardens. They also went skiing and went to the International Festival in Indianapolis. The highlight of the year, though, was Foreign Language Week. This special week included some extra special activities. Among them was the chance to visit with foreign exchange students from other schools who came to BHS to explore a different Indiana high school. Also, a foreign dress day was included in the festivities. The whole school was invited to dress in clothing typical of a different country. Everyone involved had a lot of fun and enjoyed the various events of the week.

International Club advisor, Mr. Andy Koors, said it best when he stated, "While the goals may be ultimately educational, the means to those goals are almost entirely non-academic and are geared toward exploring the fun of multiculturalism." When asked what her favorite part of being involved with the club was, advisor Mrs. Charm Seright responded, "It is my opportunity to be with students in a relaxed social setting." Whether one's favorite part is eating, socializing, or learning, everyone seems to agree that being involved in this club has been lots of fun.

Strike Up The Band

Composed of forty-six members and nine auxiliary girls, the Batesville High School band performed throughout the year in school activities and several performances. They include the Pumpkin Show Parade and Butler Band Day. Butler Band Day was held at Butler University with nine other bands performing, with a total of 2000 musicians. All these contests were done under the instruction of Mrs. Mary Oxley, who has been conductor for five years. For the first time the band did a "competition" in a marching show. Mrs. Oxley said, "This style is more challenging than ordinary shows."

Among the outstanding musicians of the band were Andrea Boles and Barbara Bourquein. Andrea was nominated first chair flute for the Butler All-Star Band and was a state solo ensemble participant. This year's field commander was Barbara Bourquein, who also participated in the state solo ensemble competition.

Pep band, which plays more "up beat" songs, performed many different numbers this year. Among them were "Live and Let Die," "Twist and Shout," and "Great Balls Of Fire." Chris Rollins, who enjoyed playing guitar for the band, commented, "It gives me time to play my guitar: before this year, I never played with a concert band, but I think it helps me understand other music better."

Overall, this year's band was enthusiastic about their work. Mrs. Oxley is looking forward to working with the underclassmen in the years to come.

This was the first year that flags and drill team were combined. Nancy Wuestefeld, a member of the Auxiliary Corp, commented on the combining of the two, "I think it brought the corp together more."

Something To Be Noted For

Future Business Leaders of America is a club that prepares students for a professional career. The club works as if they were in a professional atmosphere.

The 1992-93 club officers were as follows: President, Chris Hoegeman; Vice President, Jake Linkel; Secretary, Angie Spurlock; Treasurer, Ben Dickey; Historian, Jessica Pohlman; Reporter, Shella Hannebaum, and Parliamentarian, Heather Koester.

The club took several field trips this year. They toured Forethought, the printing department of Hillenbrand Industries, Fifth Third Bank, and then ate at the Sherman House. The club's goal is to explore business careers.

With twenty-seven people in the Choir, the Batesville Choir was very active this year. When they weren't practicing, they were performing. They performed four concerts this year and took part in the Ripley County Music Festival.

Magazine sales with the band was a big fundraiser for the Choir.

This year's music styles ranged from Renaissance Madrigal to the latest musicals. Congratulations on a job well done.

Curtain Call

Batesville was graced with excellence forming the 1992-93 BHS Drama Club. The club was very busy performing, not one, but two awesome productions. The fall production of The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe was quite difficult to perform, due to having two casts. Drama director Mrs. Barnett used both casts to give everyone interested in acting a chance to participate. Even though the actors had less practice time, they still had an awesome performance.

Everyone who attended the spring performance of the musical Guys and Dolls was pleasantly surprised. It was the biggest production the drama department had ever done. Mrs. Barnett received excellent musical direction from Mrs. Oxley and Mr. Enneking. "The artist-in-residence choreographer, Carey Collins, was great. Her dancing was outstanding and added more to the play than any other prop or added extra," says Brian Schwegman, sophomore actor. Once again, the drama department will have a tough time topping this one!

S.C. Delivers Success

Batesville High School's Student Council was very hard at work throughout the 1992-93 school year. The four officers that planned the events of the year were John Strange, President; Chris Nobbe, Vice-President; Wendy Kirschner, Secretary; Jenna Meyer, Treasurer. Along with these four officers, there were twenty-two members in the group that made the year a pure success. Mr. Schuck and Miss Walsh worked together in advising this important organization.

Student Council again kicked off the year with the annual Hill-Rom Day held in September. A total of 70-80 high school students came together to help make the day a success for the Hill-Rom employees and families. One change in the event included a fireworks show that ended the day with a "bang"!

Homecoming is the next important event that Student Council took part in planning. The overall theme chosen for this year was "A Stroll Though Our Royal Kingdom." Along with organizing the Homecoming Parade and Homecoming Court, Student Council created a Spirit Week that included such things as blue/white day, hat day, sucker day, and so on.

Student Council helped bring about the Christmas spirit by having their annual Christmas dinner on December 18, 1992. Everyone in the organization got out their Santa hats and helped make lunch a little more special for BHS students. Throughout the week, they served as Secret Santas for the faculty and staff. They also wanted to make the holidays more special for those less fortunate by sponsoring a canned food drive. BHS students brought in food throughout the week and managed to collect over 1700 cans of food.

The annual Semi-Formal dance, sponsored by Student Council, was held on Valentine's Day this year. The dance was held at the Knights of St. John Hall in Batesville. The hall was decorated in the colors of red, pink, and white with hearts, heart balloons and cupids, completing the Valentine's Day atmosphere.

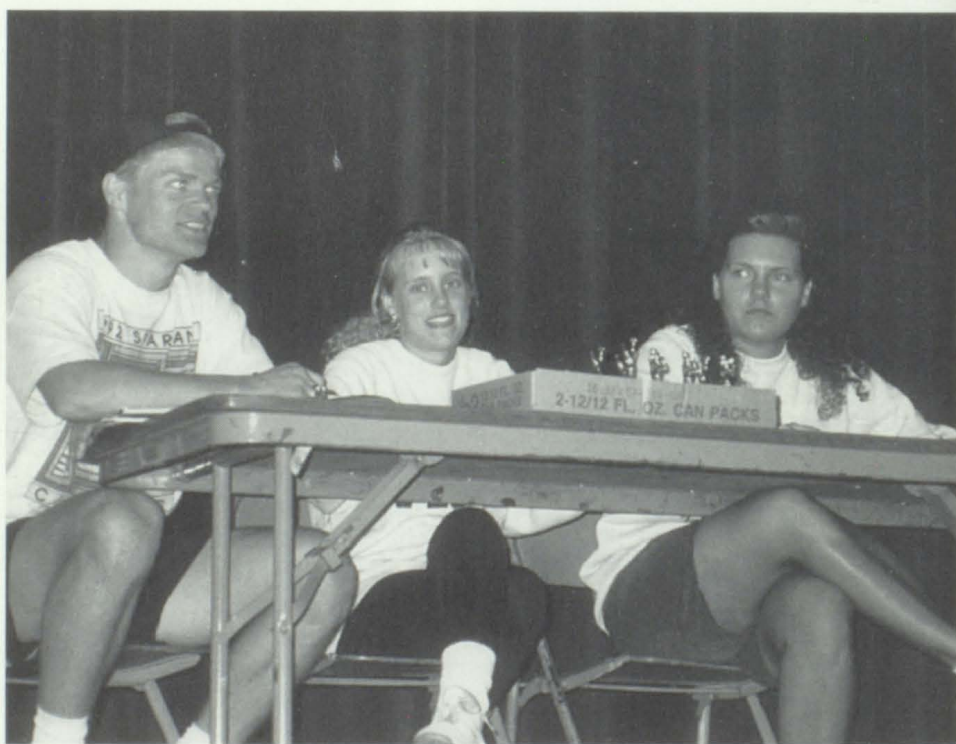

Other events held throughout the year were the BIG MAC program, the Blood Drive with the Hoxworth Blood Center on May 3, Faculty and Staff Appreciation Day on May 14, Activity Day on May 19, and Slave Day on May 21. They also started a new birthday program where each student received a birthday card and sucker on his/her special day.

The Student Council ended their busy year with the election of new officers and members for the upcoming year. The organization was very busy as a whole, but everything went very smoothly to create a year of pure success.

Called To Service

Media Center, Office, and Teacher's Assistants are three classes offered in which seniors can make valuable use of some of their free time. Students who work in the media center perform various tasks, such as making copies, shelving materials, helping students find information, and many other things. Among the duties of Office Assistants are sorting papers, filing, answering the phone, and anything else they can do to help out in the office. The Teacher's Assistants are assigned to a certain teacher and do everything from filing to decorating bulletin boards. All the assistants receive one half credit per semester. Their work is greatly appreciated.

Teaching To Hug

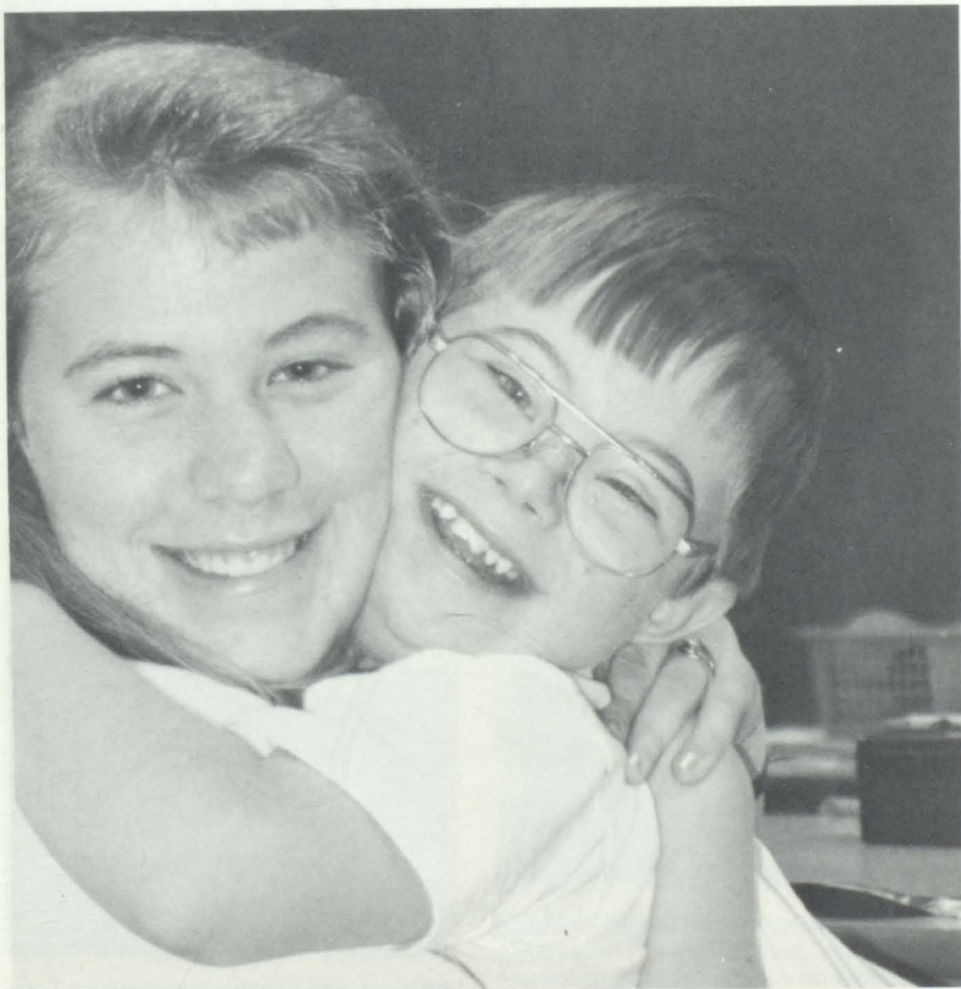

This year, in addition to the annual Red Ribbon Campaign, SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) implemented the "Hugs, Not Drugs" slogan. SADD members went to the primary school to present the students with their ribbons and an optional hug.

The annual Candlelight Walk was held in remembrance of those who have died in drunk driving accidents. "I'm really glad to see that students care about driving sober. Hopefully it will save their lives," says SADD President Nancy Wuestefeld.

Seniors interested in teaching as a career participated in the Exploratory Teaching program. They each chose the grade level they wanted to teach. Nine students chose to teach at Batesville Primary School. Three students taught at Batesville Middle School. The High School and Intermediate School each had one. Wendy Wonning, who taught at the BPS, comments, "I really like going there. The kids brighten up my day. The experience has made me realize that teaching is a difficult job." According to Chris Nobbe, teacher at the Middle School said, "The experiences I've had through exploratory teaching have helped me in my plans to pursue a career in secondary education."

Gearing Up to Learn

Two organizations at Batesville High School are geared toward academic achievement, the Academic Team and National Honor Society. Composed of twenty-two members and two coaches, Mr. Andy Koors and Mr. Jim Hayes, the Academic Team competed in seven competitions this year. Although the team as a whole could only be rated as average after coming in close to the top in three categories and close to the bottom in the other three, the English squad did win the conference title. That was a great achievement.

National Honor Society was made up of thirty-three juniors and seniors, who not only have a 93.5 or better grade point average, but also have shown good character, citizenship, and leadership both in and out of school. This year the club was under two new advisors, Mrs. Kay Grimsley and Mr. Ralph Hochstetler. With these new faces came new and different activities. At Christmas time, a toy drive was held to bring some cheer to needy children in our area. The toys were then wrapped by NHS members and distributed at the annual Jaycees Christmas party. The club also did an environmental activity by planting trees on Arbor Day with the third graders from the Batesville Primary School.

What is yet to come? Mr. Hochstetler said, "I hope to see NHS become a more viable organization at BHS, that members be proud to say that they are members, and that each month NHS is recognized for contributing something to other students, the school, the corporation, and/or the community."

Call It News

Where do the best headlines appear? In THE BULLDOG BARK and THE BULLDOG, of course, Batesville High School's newspaper and yearbook, each year, two staffs work hard to get all the news of the school to students and the community.

The newspaper was published about twice monthly with all the latest events and happenings at the school. This year, the newspaper had two advisors. First semester, Mr. Jim Hayes helped to lead the staff to a great publication. Second semester, Mr. Mark Ferguson took over the position after Mr. Hayes's retirement. "The biggest challenge was to find out where the present staff was in their knowledge of journalism and go from there," said Mr. Ferguson about his new task.

The yearbook staff worked hard all year long to make sure that everyone would take home a wonderful reminder of high school memories. This year's editor, Wendy Wanning, told us that the title of the book happened basically by accident. "I was joking around with some of the people I met, and I said I should let the students call it what they want. It stuck." The staff then worked hard to complete a 152 page book.

Life Skills

FHA is a youth leadership organization for young men and women with the family and home economics as its central focus. Many of the students in FHA will look into home economic careers. This year there were thirty members who participated in events, such as Healthy Kids Day and the Down's Syndrome organization. Club members also attended the Cluster Meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, with students from all over the United States. They also hosted the Spring District Meeting. The topic was presented by Lisa Smith, a mother who adopted a boy with fetal alcohol syndrome.

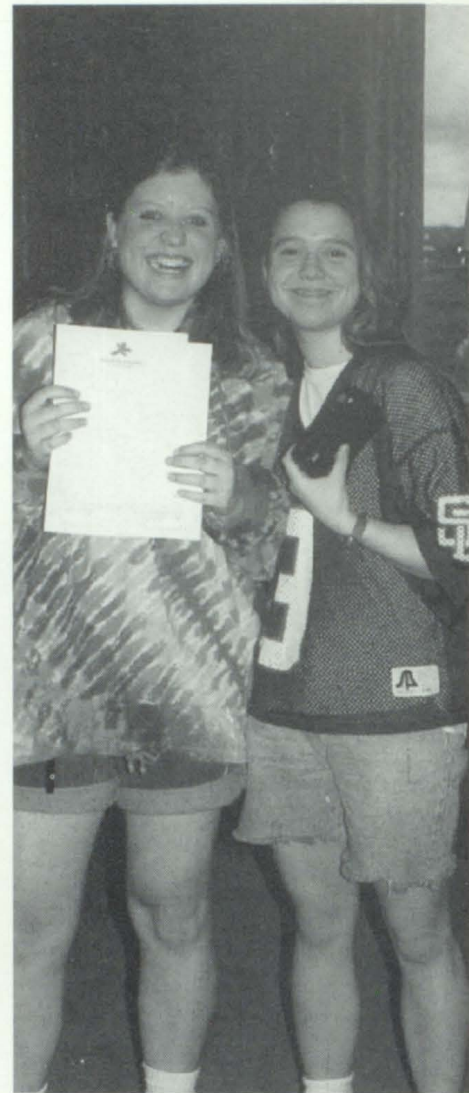

FHA is a wonderful way to learn positive self-esteem and good leadership skills for life.

FFA, headed by Mr. Cutter for the past seven years, is a leadership organization of students interested in agriculture. This year the organization had a total of fifty members. Among the fifty, each has his or her own accomplishments and contributions for the past year. Throughout the year many awards were won including State Entomology Judging. This team consisted of four members: Regina Cutter, Nick Biltz, Jason Stenger, and Frank Lecher. Also at the state level the organization placed second in the State Section Chapter Meeting Contest. At the County Contest, teams swept four categories by receiving firsts in soil, entomology, crops, and dairy judging.

The club took part in many different activities and field trips. Educational field trips were taken to Columbus for the National Farm Progress Show, The Indiana State Fair, The State FFA Convention at Purdue, and The National FFA Convention at Kansas City. Social activities included a booth at the Kiwanis Merchant Show, Farm City Banquet, FFA Chapter Awards Banquet, FFA Week, and Ripley County Ag Day. To pay for the field trips and activities, the group held two fund raisers, apple sales and a raffle.

Get The Skills You Need

The Southeastern Career Center is a provider of academic and vocational services to secondary and adult students. It was the very first vocational school in Indiana. Thirteen schools from all over Southeastern Indiana attend the Career Center.

The faculty, staff, and administration provide students with job skills, which will enable them to enter and succeed in today's world of work.

Personal qualities, such as self esteem, morals, work ethics, and respect, are also emphasized as contributors to effective work skills.

Upon successfully completing a Career Center program, graduates receive a certificate and have an opportunity to become more productive members of society.

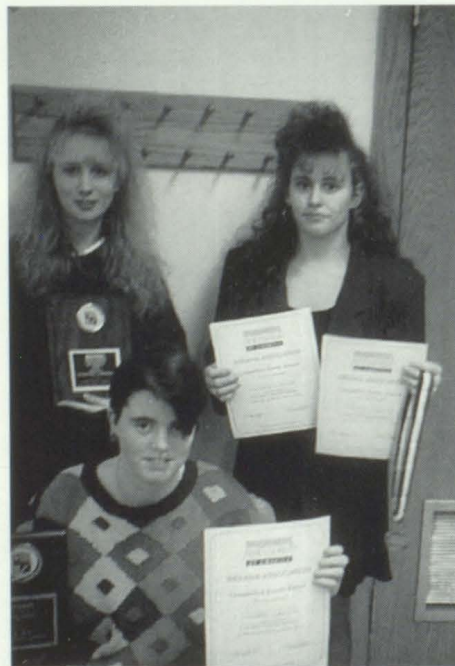

There are seventeen different programs offered at the Career Center for high school students.

"Going to the Career Center prepared, for me, a brighter outlook on my future," stated Amber Newton.

Key To Achievement

Once again the Key Club has proven to be one of the most successful organizations here at high school. Sixteen members strong, the Key Club had mastered everything from sucker sales to baking cookies. Doug Pulskamp, Brant Stoner, Ken Bedel, Rita Miller, and Mandi Roberson served as officers this past year. Next year's group will have a tough act to follow but should achieve notoriety.

Like the Key Club, the Junior Achievers are another Batesville

High School success story. Based out of Cincinnati, the group reviews the basics of small business management. Although they're kept somewhat quiet at BHS, JA was very involved at many different projects. Throughout the year, Junior Achievement has made a name for itself and is still growing today.

Ask any member of any club and they will tell you the key to achievement is to be involved.

"The Neglected Majority"

Call It A Job

ICT/ICE is a program in which students learn about careers by training on the job. "Industry is a partnership to education," says director Mr. Wuestefeld. Students enrolled in the program choose what type of job they are interested in and find a company where they can work. Senior Dawn Moody explains, "ICT/ICE has helped me learn to balance my time and energy, so I will be able to work while still doing well in school." This year, students thanked their employers for the opportunity to work by holding an Employer/Employee Banquet.

This year's coaches had a great time "calling the shots". We had many teams that achieved great success. Among the extraordinary teams of 1993 were the Boys Cross Country team, Girls Cross Country runner Angie Menser, the Boys Tennis Team, the Girls Basketball Team, and the Wrestling Team.

Tennis player Alberto Perez was excited about winning the sectional title. "It feels good to have been one of the participants of the winning team. Since we were rivals with Lawrenceburg, it felt great to beat them in the most important match of the year."

Once again, wrestler Mike Daily made it to the state meet. Chris Nobbe and Jason Koch also had excellent seasons, which earned them a place in the Semi-State match.

Andy Scheele, a member of the Cross Country team explains, "The best thing about running in the Semi-State meet was the recognition. Being a participant helped me in being named to the All-State team, which has been the highlight of my career."

-Wendy Wanning, Nancy Wuestefeld

Getting ready for a Cross-Country meet, Coach Turchyn helps Andy Scheele while he is trying to catch a few rays.

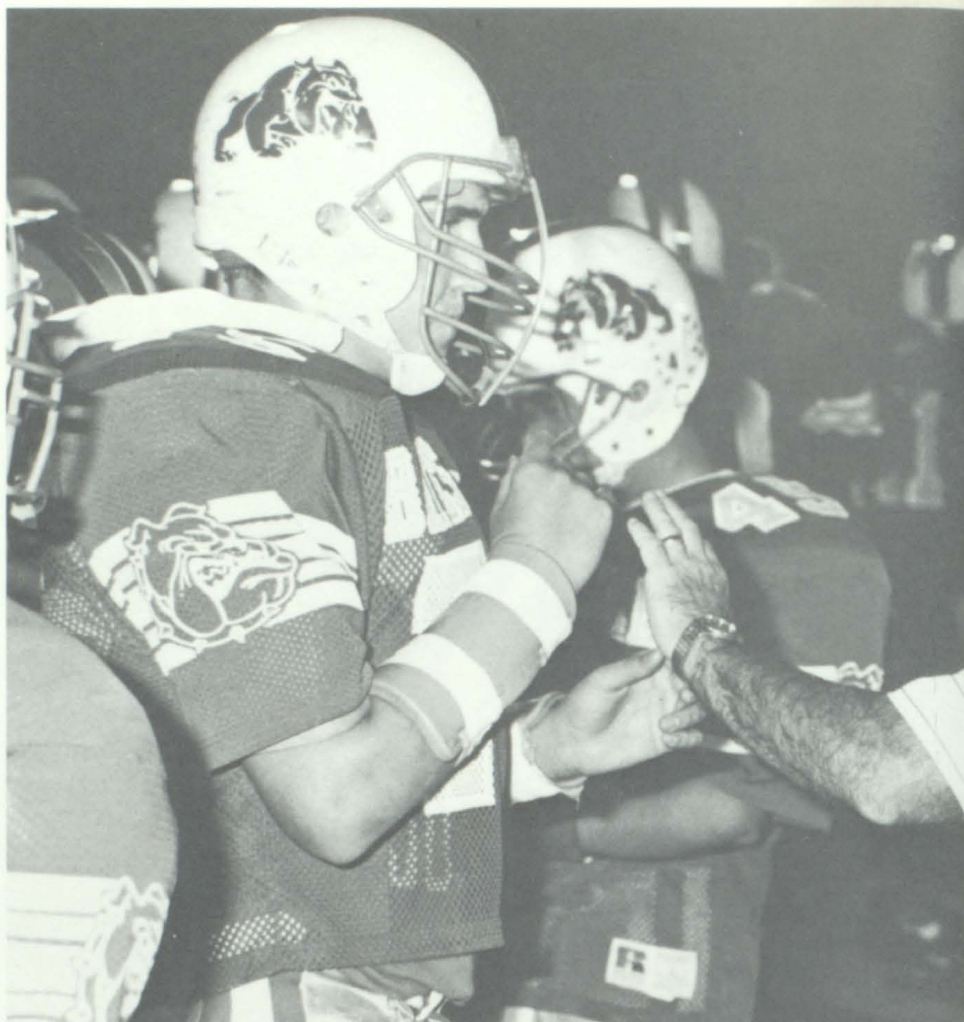

"Pain is temporary, pride is forever." Coach Ferguson prepares the grapplers for their upcoming match.

Squaring up his shot, Pete Bohman hopes it goes in, while John Strange, Troy Riehle, and Ken Bedel await the outcome.

Coach Records gives last minute advice to sophomore Andy Saner before the big game.

Ken Bedel, senior, pours the heat on Lawrenceburg's Kelcey Mucker.

Call 'Em Mighty

The football team didn't have the numbers as in years past. However, they played even harder and with more determination to overcome that obstacle.

Coach Records couldn't say enough about the seniors. "They did a super job of pulling the team together. They may be missed for that aspect more than any other."

The Bulldogs opened the season with a 28-14 win over Milan and a 12-0 victory over Knightstown. Then Bulldogs pulled it together for their biggest win of the year over the Knights from South Dearborn, 28-0.

Despite the reserve and freshman football teams' records, they played well all year. The reserves' biggest win over Lawrenceburg bettered their record to 2-4. The freshman team played aggressively throughout the season.

For the freshman team, awards were given to Billy Enneking, best offensive player; Adam Saner, best defensive player; and Nathan Pohlman, the Bulldog Award. Reserve Bulldog Award went to Brent Gutzwiller; best offensive player, Ryan Krekeler; best defensive player, Dustin Tekulve; and special teams went to Matt Weberding. At the varsity level, Ken Bedel earned the Gardner Award. Matt Saner received the "Big Stick" Award. The special teams award went to Jeff Pulkamp. Dan Kinker was awarded with the Bulldog Award. Chris Nobbe earned the Tackling Trophy, best offensive and defensive player, the Raver Award, and the M.V.P.

Injuries Hamper Volleyball Play

The 1992 volleyball season was played with injury. Despite the hard work throughout the season, the varsity record was 9-12, while the reserve finished 1-15. The turnout for try-outs was surprising. Due to the number of students interested, a freshman team was assembled for the first time in several years.

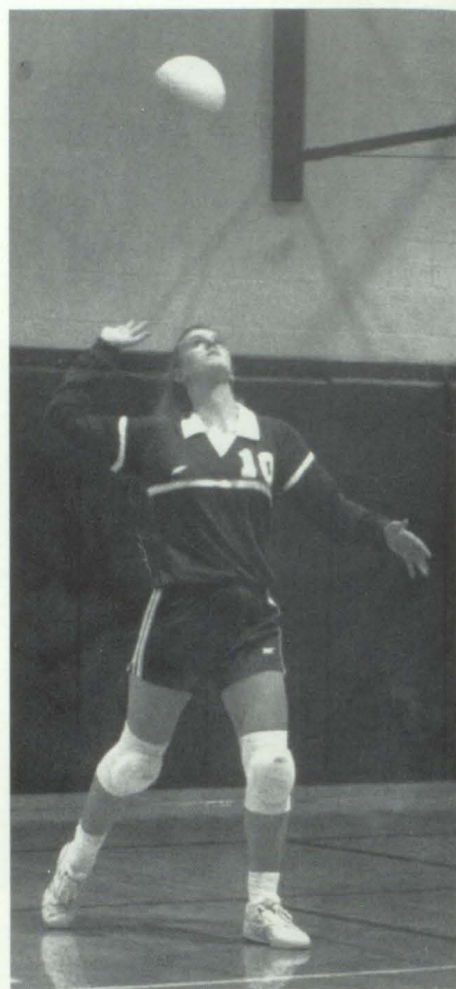

The season started off well for the varsity team. They won three out of their first four games. During the first few weeks of volleyball, everything went very well. Everyone had high expectations for the team, and the upcoming season looked bright. The varsity team was well-rounded. It included servers, passers, hitters, blockers, and diggers. All the talents for a great season were there. However, mid-season, things weren't looking good. One of the two seniors on the team, Wendy Kirschner, was out with an injured ankle, and the team just couldn't seem to pull everything together for a win. By the end of the season, the record had worsened, the spirits had dampened, and the team's most valuable player, Stephanie Bergman, was out for the remainder of the season with a sprained ankle. Although the season didn't go as well as everyone had expected, the team continued to work hard, and hoped for better things next year. The two seniors, Wendy Kirschner and Pegeen Gordon, will be missed. They, as well as everyone else, contributed greatly to the team.

The reserve team, despite all their hard work, were only able to pull out one win on the season. The team, aside from three sophomores, was composed entirely of freshmen. There is a lot of young talent on the reserve, as well as on the freshman team. Hard work and a few years of experience will make them a strong team in the future.

What A Wonderful Set

In 1992, the tennis team had a successful season with a record of nine wins and six losses. They crowned this wonderful season with the sectional victory over South Dearborn and in the final over Lawrenceburg. This is the first sectional win for the tennis team since 1985.

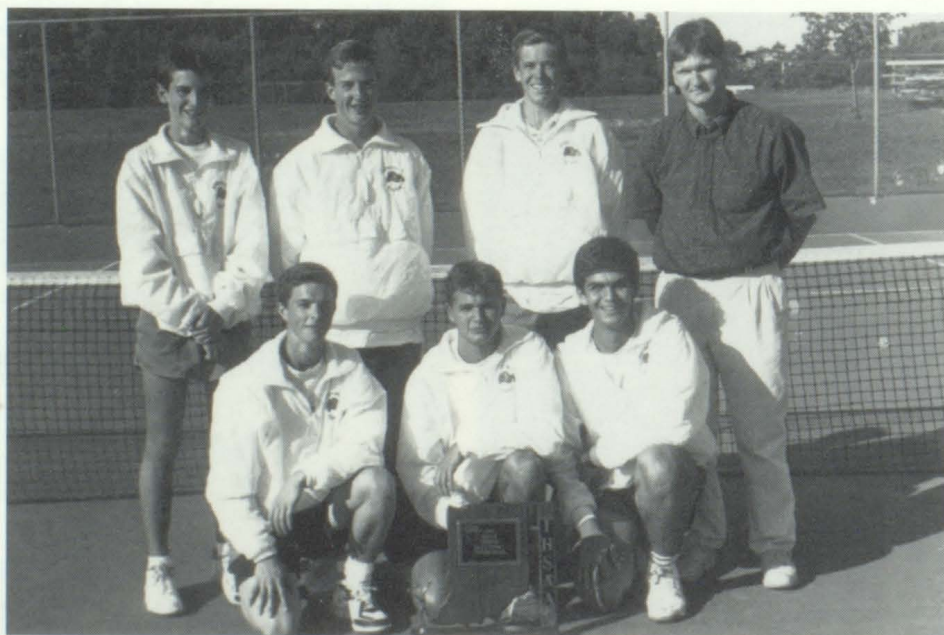

The team was defeated in regional action, except for the number one doubles team of Hans Ritter and Nathan Walsman, who advanced to the next round of doubles play. Junior Ryan Rahe expressed his joy of winning sectional by saying, "It felt great to be sectional champs!" He also said the season was full of ups and downs but ended on a good note. Junior Shawn Raver said, "I believe the regional experience will help us going into next season."

Coach Schuck commented, "We had a super season. We ended on a high note and really came together as a team." He added, "The greatest match of the season was against Lawrenceburg when we became sectional champions."

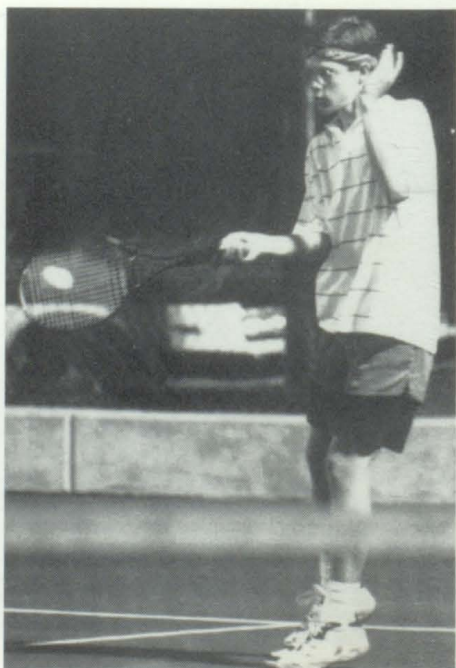

The winners of the awards were Nathan Walsman and Hans Ritter for Most Valuable Player. The Bulldog Award went to Shawn Raver.

Coach Brebberman takes time out to explain some strategies of golf to Rebecca Ballou and Shannon Wilhelm.

Par For The Course

Because of a greater opportunity to learn the game, golf is becoming a more popular sport, according to girls golf coach, Mr. Brebberman. He attributes the large increase in team numbers to the growing popularity of the sport. All of the Lady Golfers that will return next season are upcoming sophomores and juniors; so the next couple of years look promising.

Mr. Brebberman was pleased with this year's team record. Their overall record was a winning 22-11.

Since there was no clear-cut best, the golfers were very competitive with each other, and therefore kept their scores very low.

Angie Hisrich, who received the Most Valuable Player Award, wants to wish the 93-94 team the best of luck, but says, "You'll have to find your own blue marker."

Possibly the most prestigious award, the Bulldog Award, is given to the player who works the hardest and basically has a good attitude toward the sport, along with tremendous team spirit. This year sophomore Becky Narwold was the recipient.

"The best meet overall had to be conference at Milan. We ended up second behind Greensburg, but everyone played well," says Gina Raver. There was less than a point between first and second place. Since the girls' scores were so close, they usually finished matches above other teams that had only one or two outstanding players.

Even though the weather didn't always cooperate, the girls stayed with it. They even played through five hours of rain at sectionals!

Coach Raver led the 1992 boys cross country team to yet another outstanding season. The final overall record was 120-15. They had many awesome victories, including a win in the Rushville Invitational, Greensburg Invitational, the county meet, and first place at regional. Besides these victories, the boys finished second in the East Central Invitational, second in the conference and third in the sectional. After winning the regional, the cross country team advanced to semi-state. The runners improved 45 seconds per runner over last year. If the returning runners can improve another 30 seconds in 1993, the team will compete for a semi-state title. No cross country team from Batesville High School has ever run in the state meet.

When asked for a projection, Coach Raver commented that our cross country team will be even stronger next year with seven of the top nine runners returning. He is very determined they will advance to the state meet. Some of the top runners were Andy Scheele (16:10), Troy Riehle (16:11), Josh Goldsmith (16:58), Chris Ronnebaum (17:00), Ben Dickey (17:05), Ben Roell (17:58), Greg Strobel (17:58), Jarod Kerker, and Daryl Eckstein. Coach Raver commented, "We took BHS to a new level in boys cross country and we hope this is just the beginning. We lose some outstanding leaders in our senior class, but we return a great core of strong runners." He also complimented the great spirit of the team.

The Most Valuable Player Award went to Andy Scheele, who showed great leadership throughout the season. The Bulldog Award was given to Troy Riehle, who displayed outstanding spirit and dedication.

Running From The Heart

Coach Raver's Girls Cross Country team had a successful season. Along with ability, their success was a result of positive attitudes. Gina Montgomery expressed, "Running doesn't come from the legs, it comes from the heart."

The girls' biggest accomplishment was placing second in conference. Other outstanding achievements were placing second in county and coming in fourth, out of twenty-five teams, at the Rushville Invitational. Coach Raver commented, "We are getting very close to moving to the top level of girls cross country teams in our area."

"This year our team came closer to getting past sectionals than we have in the past," mentioned Angie Menser. The top five teams advanced to regional. The girls came in sixth, one point behind the fifth placed team. Angie Menser, however, individually advanced to regional and then to semi-state. Despite having knee surgery eight months prior to semi-state, Menser fell one second short of qualifying for state.

The Most Valuable Player award, voted on by the runners, was given to Angie Menser. The Bulldog Award, chosen by Coach Raver, went to Jill Cochran.

-Kathy Raver

CALL A TAKEDOWN

What a great way to spend a Saturday! Takedowns, nearfalls, and pins filled BHS wrestlers' weekends. Usually leaving before dawn, these hardworking guys prepared for the day ahead. "Preparation" began with weigh-in. If a wrestler didn't make weight, one was sure to find him running off steam in order to lose a few extra pounds. Sometimes the wrestlers would get so involved in mentally preparing for their match that they would sometimes forget the "little things," like shoes and headgear! Luckily they always remembered before it was too late.

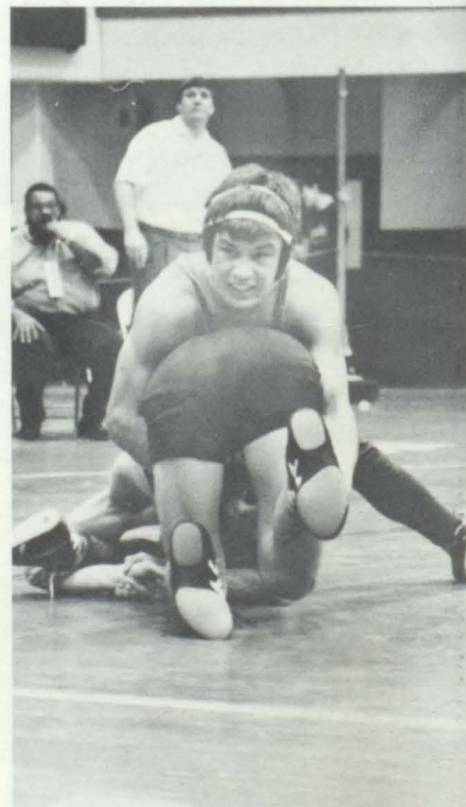

This year was a great one for BHS wrestlers. Chris Nobbe was the recipient of the "Hammer" award for breaking the school record of most pins in a season. Billy Enneking also broke a school record for most takedowns in a season. This was an extraordinary feat, since Billy was only a freshman at the time. Coach Ferguson was pleased with the season. "We have very good individuals. We just need to start working on depth and team cooperation." Team co-captain Chris Nobbe explained, "This year's team was filled with outstanding individual performers. There are a lot of younger wrestlers who showed dramatic improvement who will help the team in years to come."

Dreams of Victory

The 1992-93 season for the boys varsity basketball team was challenging yet triumphant with a record of 16-7. The Bulldogs traveled from school to school with eleven varsity and nine reserve players with dreams of victory.

The Bulldogs were led by five seniors, who showed the true meaning of sportsmanship and team work with their fellow players. No matter the odds of the game, each player gave it his all.

The remaining varsity players, consisting of juniors and a sophomore, were eager to do their best in helping toward a victory. When asked the most memorable time in the season, Troy Riehle replied, "Starting out the season 3-0." Even though most of the time the Bulldogs pulled off a great success, there were some embarrassing moments," states Alan Meyer, "was when I laid it in and got booed for not dunking it against Milan."

With a record of 11-9, the reserve team showed an impressive effort. Andy Saner was recognized with the Bulldog Award for his outstanding effort in the sport. Each of the players showed extreme improvement throughout the season.

With a record of 12-5 the future for the team of freshmen has a great outlook. The team showed a great deal of winning energy. Brian Roell received the Bulldog Award for showing such great determination. The best of luck for the years to come goes out to these basketball players.

Even though it's the last year for some, there are many more winning years to come. Jeff Schwegman remembers his high school basketball year and states, "After four years of playing basketball, it's hard to believe it's over now. I've gone through countless practices, done a million lay-ups, and suffered through an infinite amount of zig-zags (especially after the Union County and Rushville games), but they were all worth it. I have a lot of great memories and a lot of great teammates. I'd like to thank them and the coaches for everything. And just remember, juniors, bring home the sectional next year!"

Pep Is The Key To Spirit

That's right, pep is the key to cheerleading. A cheerleader must be able to stay peppy and spirited. This year the Freshman and Varsity Squads did just that. Winning or losing, the girls kept smiling.

In order to keep girls involved, sponsors decided to split the squads into fall and winter groups. The decision proved successful. Over twenty girls participated in the program this year. Cheerleading at BHS finally seems to be back on track. The young ladies involved received nothing but praise, and next year they are expected to be nothing but the BEST!

Call It A Sweet Repeat

The 1992-1993 Lady Bulldog Basketball Team had an outstanding season, finishing with a record of 13-8. The successful team consisted of two seniors, three juniors, four sophomores, and one freshman.

For a second year, the Lady Bulldogs were able to capture a sectional title and advance to first round regional action in Columbus. Second year Varsity Coach Hoeing commented, "Back-to-back sectional titles are always sweet to come by. Of course, a regional championship is one of our short term goals. If we keep working, we should have several opportunities to achieve that title."

The varsity MVP for the Lady Bulldogs was Becky Narwold. She led the team in scoring with an accumulation of 331 points for the season. Becky Narwold also received the varsity free throw award with a 74% season average. Seniors Wendy Kirschner and Gina Raver were the recipients of the varsity Bulldog Award, while sophomores Katie Amos and Amy Vonderheide received the reserve Bulldog Award.

The future looks hopeful for the Lady Bulldogs, with eight returning varsity letter winners. They will lose only two seniors for next season, due to graduation.

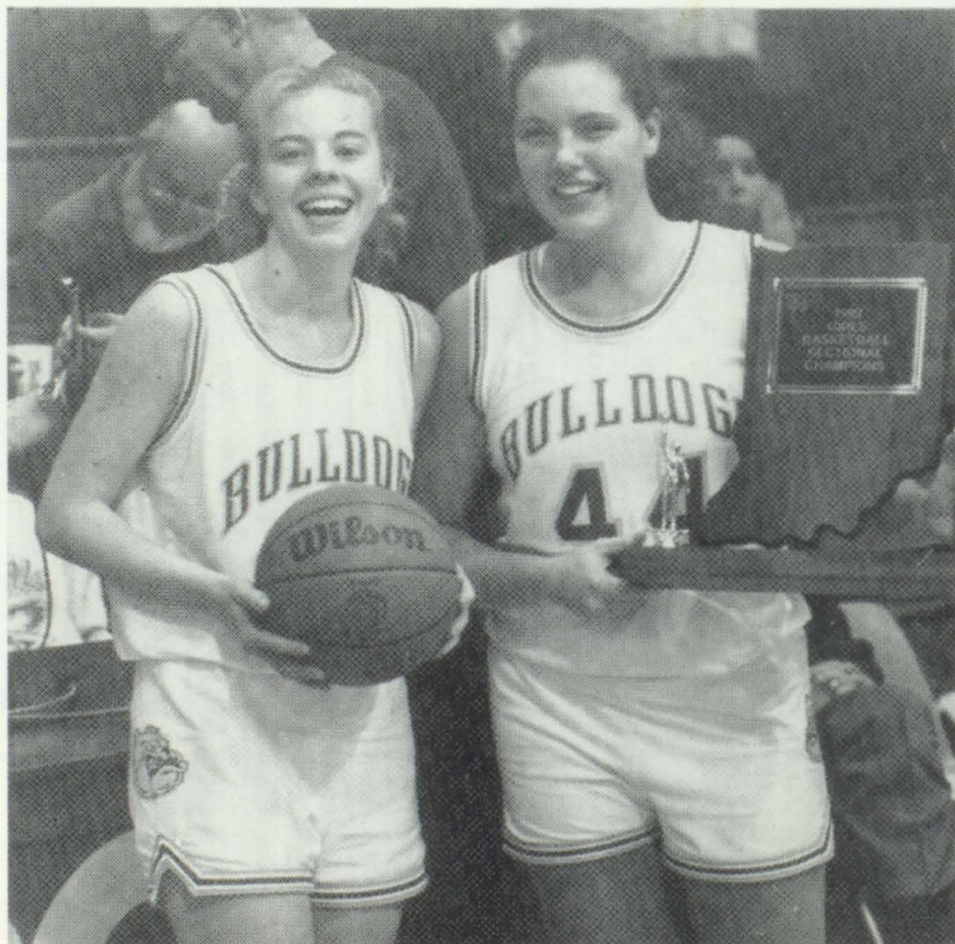

The reserve Lady Bulldogs finished their season with an overall record of 8-8. They will also add to the bright future ahead for Batesville Lady Bulldog basketball.

Joe Meyer attempts to clear the pole vault.

Senior Ken Bedel puts all of his strength into his throw to place first in the county meet.

Josh Pohlman shows strength and determination in striving for a top place in long jump.

CALL IT POWER

Batesville High School boys completed an outstanding track season. This year's team was very complete in almost all events. Coach Raver, who was very pleased with the team, commented, "We will graduate ten seniors who have done an outstanding job but we will have a very good sophomore class for 1994." Coach Raver also had hopeful expectations for the county and sectional meets.

Among the outstanding seniors were Matt Doll, who broke the school record twice in the 110 meter high hurdles. He now holds the record of 15.1 seconds. Matt was also a strong high-jumper for the boys.

Andy Scheele was an outstanding distance runner, with both the mile and 800 meter run. Chris Nobbe stepped in for the Dogs in the 300 meter low hurdles and the 1600 meter relay.

The boys team won the South Dearborn and Ripley County Invitationals, but only sent individuals to Regionals. Regional competitors were Chris Ronnebaum, Josh Goldsmith, Andy Scheele, Matt Doll, Ken Bedel, and Ben Roell. Also, the 400 meter relay team advanced to regional action: Josh Pohlman, Dan Nordmeyer, Brant Stoner, Chris Kolter, and Casey Schutte. Ken Bedel was the only member to proceed to the state meet.

Since there are so many excellent athletes, choosing a single MVP and Bulldog Award winner was quite a difficult task. The final decision was that Andy Scheele and Matt Doll were co-MVP winners. Likewise, Chris Nobbe and Ken Bedel were co-Bulldog Award winners.

Call It A "P.R.!"

From the very first practice, the 1993 girls' track season looked hopeful. With a record turnout, seventeen girls gave it their all in hopes of a winning season. Members worked hard to achieve personal records and backed their teammates for better team scores. The spirit of this team was the best it has been in years. Assistant Coach Walsh commented, "The girls are very positive and supportive of each other. They are a great group to work with!"

Not only was the attitude great, but the team also had depth. There were enough girls to cover all events and even double up in some. The seniors were outstanding role models and will surely be missed. The coaches are looking for a great season next year from the underclassmen.

Nine girls advanced to regional action, and junior Angle Menser qualified for the state meet in both the 800 meter and the mile run.

The Bulldog Award winner for the '93 track season was senior Gina Raver. Angle Menser was awarded the team's Most Valuable Player recognition.

The varsity baseball team ended with a winning season. Their record was 13-7. The reserve team finished with a .500 season with a record of 5-5.

Coach Seright complimented his team by saying they played very good baseball all year. The Bulldogs even defeated the Lawrenceburg Tigers by a score of 10-9 in extra innings.

Leading hitters for the Dogs were Troy Riehle (.444 avg.), Gary Jewell (.388 avg.), and Alan Meyer (.388 avg.). All will be returning next year.

Doug Obermeyer broke a school record with pitching two no-hitters throughout the season.

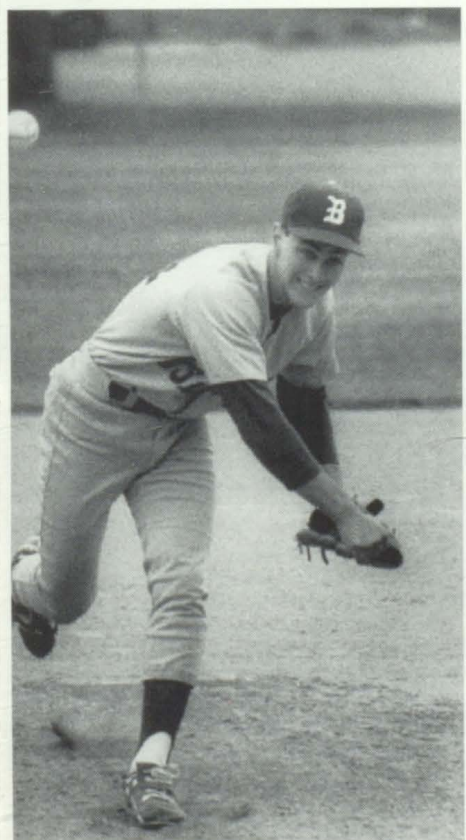

Award winners were Todd Brelage and Jeremy Bastin who received the Varsity Bulldog Award. Troy Riehle received the Hitting Trophy. MVP for the Bulldogs was Troy Riehle. All-Conference players were Jeff Schwegman, John Lee, Todd Brelage, and Troy Riehle. Reserve Bulldog Award was presented to Matt Weberding.

Senior John Lee commented, "We played good defense all year long and we played as a team." Coach Seright agreed with John and said, "The boys all had great attitudes."

Working Together To Win

Despite another losing season, the Lady Bulldogs softball team managed to pull out two victories. They were victorious over the Oldenburg Academy Twisters as well as the East Central Trojans. These wins inspired the team to continue playing hard and working together as a team.

When asked how the season went, Shannon Koester commented, "I feel this season went better than last season and I think since we're mostly underclassmen, we didn't have the conflicts with upperclassmen you sometimes have in other sports."

With losing only one senior, Angie Hisrich, the team will have the potential to be a strong one next season.

The award winners were announced at the team party. The Bulldog Award was presented to Sarah Simons. The Most Valuable Player award was given to Becky Narwold.

All 'FORE' Fun

Success was written all over this year's golf season. With a record of 13 and 2, the BHS varsity golf team has proven once again to be dominant in this area. Competition was tough, not only with other schools, but among teammates. The number one spot was often questionable due to great efforts by all. Three team members, John Strange, Jonathan Walsman, and Gary Weisenbach were named All-Conference. The team also received second place in EIAC competition. The highlight of the season was the team's sectional victory and Gary Wesinebach finishing first place as medalist. Coach Siefert commented, "The first sectional win since 1973 made a great season even better." With the majority of the team returning next year, history is likely to repeat itself. The 1994 golf season has the potential to be not only fun but another great success.

"LOVE" The Improvement

Coach Schuck's Lady Bulldogs completed a successful season this year in tennis, finishing with a triumphant 10-5 record. "We had several players who showed improvement over the course of the last year. They helped us win a lot of 3-2 matches this season," commented Coach Schuck. The team finished second in the conference to a top-rated Greensburg team.

Sophomore standout Jill Cochran was most competitive throughout the year, as she advanced to state level play. She finished in the top eight statewide. "It was a great experience for Jill to compete with upper-classwomen, many of whom had been to state in the past. It was a tremendous confidence builder for her," quoted Coach Schuck.

Award winners for the tennis team were Amy Vonderheide, who was recognized as the Reserve Bulldog Award winner; Kathy Raver, who received the Varsity Bulldog Award; and Jill Cochran, who was named the team's Most Valuable Player.

-Nancy Wuestefeld

A person's high school career is marked by numerous special events and memorable occasions. It is through these events that the exciting and carefree memories that will stay with us for a lifetime are formed.

One of the most highly anticipated events of the year is Prom. Not only is it hectic for the junior class, trying to find the right song, and perfect decorations to make the night special, but also for everyone attending the Prom. Finding the right dress, shoes, matching flowers, and a tuxedo that actually fits can take its toll on everyone. However, most prom attendants were rewarded by a remarkable night at Prom, and this year, at After-Prom also.

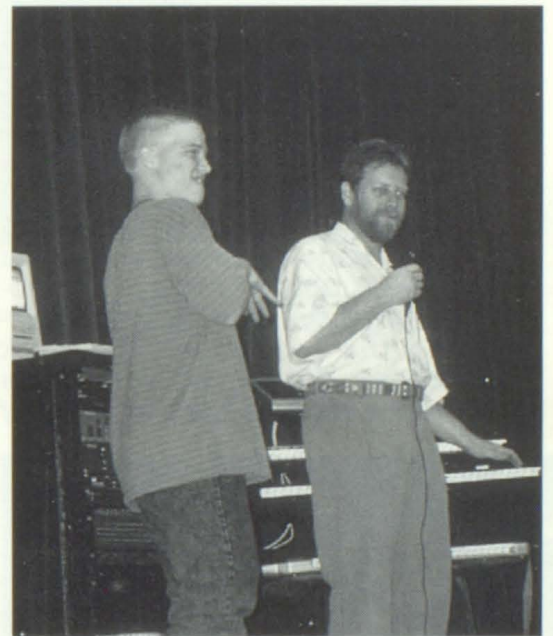

Another prestigious event during the year is the Academic Awards, sponsored by the Batesville Jaycees. Many students work hard throughout the course of the year to obtain this award.

Last, but certainly not least, is graduation, the time that everyone waits for. It is the single-most exciting event of the year, especially for the seniors. Most of them are anxious to move forward but afraid to take the first step.

We would like to wish all of the seniors good luck, and we hope that the special events at BHS have created lasting memories for them.

"Calling All Scholars"

On Wednesday, May 5, 1993, the thirty-fourth annual Scholastic Awards program, sponsored by the Batesville Jaycees, was held in the Batesville High School auditorium. The ceremony honored those students in grades nine through twelve for making the first semester honor roll and the fourth and fifth six weeks grading period honor roll. This is the highest honor given to BHS students for academic achievement.

The evening started with a reception, provided by the Home Economics department, for the parents and students. The program began immediately following the reception. Mr. Mark Stenger, Master of Ceremonies for the evening, gave some brief opening statements followed by senior Gina Raver giving some welcoming remarks to the audience.

The program continued with the presentation of certificates to the first, second, and third-year recipients. Each certificate is marked with the correct number of seals in accordance with the number of years a student has made the honor roll. The fourth-year recipients were presented with a plaque, along with a special slide show.

The program concluded with closing remarks from Mr. Mark Stenger. The program was a huge success and very memorable to all of the recipients.

Fun, Fun, Fun!

On May 19th, the annual Activity Day was held at Batesville High School. Many students participated in different activities throughout the day. The volleyball tournament was a huge success. There were fifteen teams signed up to play.

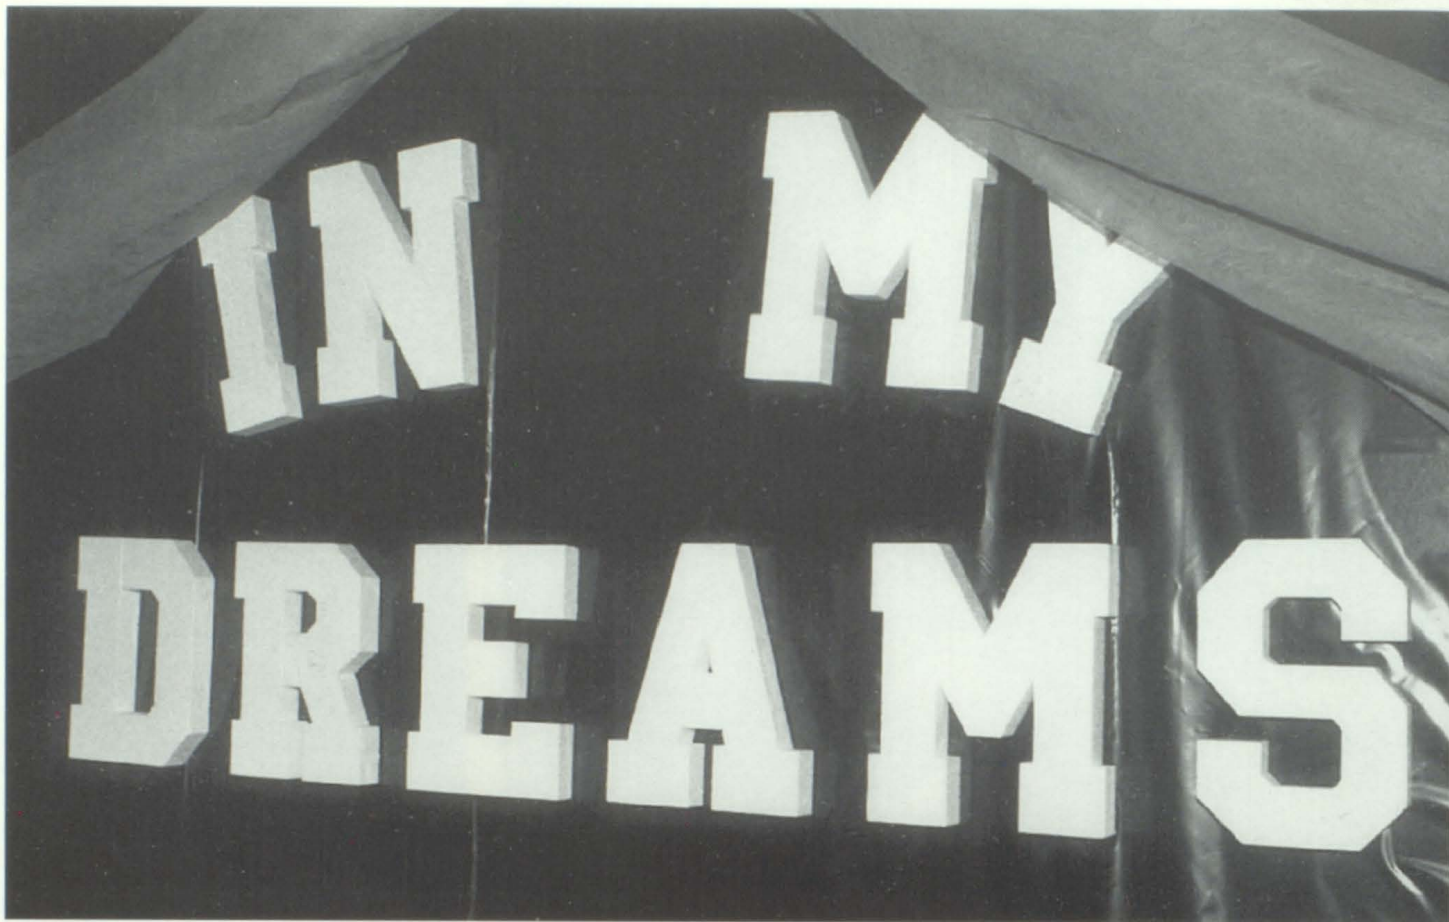

Other activities included tennis, frisbee, football and baseball. This year a new activity was added, an ice cream eating relay contest. The senior team, consisting of Sandy Shook, John Lee, and Charley Cozart, defeated the underclassmen's teams. Definitely, a good time was had by all.

Decisions, Decisions

Under the supervision of Mr. Larry Lemen, the Class of '94 put on an exciting Junior-Senior Prom, held on May 15, 1993. Throughout the year the class deliberated on the location, theme, colors, music and decorations.

The class decided on the gym for the event. Then they voted "In My Dreams" by Reo Speedwagon as the theme. The colors black, white, and purple were selected for the decor. Junior Kurt Obermeyer entertained with his Music Unlimited business. Long stem crystal glasses were given to Prom attendants upon departure.

At approximately 11:00p.m., All eyes were turned toward the Royal Court. Candidates for prince were Nathan Walsman, Doug Obermeyer, and Eric Vicars. Princess candidates were Beth Hunter, Angie Menser, and Angie Niehoff. Virgil Abshear, Matt Doll, and Gary Weisenbach were nominated for king. Queen candidates were Tawnya Perry, Suzi Schumacker, and Wendy Woning.

The winners of the election for Prom court were Eric Vicars, prince; Angie Menser, princess; Gary Weisenbach, king; and Suzi Schumacker, queen.

After-Prom for the 1992-93 BHS Prom is titled "Palm Palace."

Call It New

Palm Palace was the first annual After-Prom held for Batesville High School, which took place at Batesville Primary School. The doors opened at midnight following the Prom. Activities continued throughout the night until 3:30a.m.

The After-Prom was a huge success, thanks to everyone involved. The event wouldn't have been possible had it not been for a countless number of parents who were instrumental in decorating and providing props for the festivity.

Students who attended had the chance to participate in several activities, such as Wheel of Fortune, Hollywood Squares, baseball throw, basketball shoot, craps, and many other games.

Monetary donations and gifts were given by community members and industries throughout the Batesville area, which were presented to winning participants throughout the evening. Students received some sort of prize at this event and thoroughly enjoyed all of the fun provided.

As she addresses her fellow classmates, Angela Kessens gives a look of hope for everyone's future.

Call It The End

Graduation is one of many milestones in our lives. It marks the end of high school, the end of some friendships, and the beginning of separate lives. It can be challenging, exciting, and yet terrifying. For some of the graduates, they will never see each other again. For others, they will remain lifetime friends. Graduation day is filled with many unanswered questions with no one knowing the answers. It only takes time and patience before one will really know.

On June 6, 1993, 111 seniors gathered together one last time in the Batesville High School gymnasium. Baccalaureate services were separate from the actual commencement ceremonies. At 1:00 p.m., students and their parents filled the auditorium for the Baccalaureate program put on by the students.

Benediction was given by Pegeen Gordon. Speeches were presented by Jessica Ballou, Chris Nobbe, and Nancy Wuestefeld.

Around 2:00 p.m. the gymnasium filled up with teachers, parents, friends, and seniors. The senior choir ensemble sang two touching songs, "Time To Fly" and "It's So Hard To Say Good-bye To Yesterday." Afterwards the attendants heard speeches by Angela Kessens, Wendy Woning, Erin Carpenter, who was the class valedictorian, and Jessica Placke, salutatorian. Jim Fritsch then said some words on behalf of the Class of 1993.

The big moment then came. Diplomas were handed out to the excited seniors. Sitting in the chairs, one saw tears, joy, doubt, and melancholy in the faces of classmates. Before the class of 1993 left, Angie Hisrich gave the closing speech. Afterwards, Matt Doll, class president, signaled for the graduates to switch their tassels. Hats went flying everywhere!

Graduation is a long-awaited event in one's life. It is dreamed of by many and sought after by a few. It affects everyone in different ways. For the Class of 1993, they were no different. The Class of 1993 had its trials and tribulations. They will be remembered in different ways. They may not know a lot of things, but they do know that "Tough times never last, but tough people do."

-Wendy Woning

Pegeen Gordon gives the benediction at Baccalaureate exercises while Nancy Wuestefeld and Jessica Ballou bow their heads.

Mr. Hynds congratulates Purdue bound Jessica Placke on being the class salutatorian.

Presenting the Class of 1993, graduated seniors switch their tassels to show everyone their high school days are over.

"It's finally over!" The senior class acknowledges the end of graduation with the traditional throwing of the caps.

Our senior year is finally over.
Our school days have come and gone.
Together we have made it
Along the beaten path.

We aren't the first or last
To make this journey, long.
The path was worn before us,
And 'tis now worn even more.

Our class was not the best,
Nor was it the worst.
We didn't break all the records,
Nor did we come in last.

We had a lot of help
Along the path we trod.
Parents, teachers, and friends
Helped us to take each step.

Thirteen years we've waited.
We've waited to reach this day.
We've wanted to face the future.
We've wanted our lives to move on.

We look onward to the future,
To the years we have ahead,
To college, jobs, and families,
To experiences forever new.

We cherish what we've had,
Friendships, activities, fun,
Moments that we'll hold forever,
Memories that we'll share with others.

Now we will move onward.
Forward our lives will go.
Let us not forget these days,
They will seem so long ago.

This 1992-93 yearbook is full of many happy memories. The yearbook staff put a lot of time and effort for this yearbook. Wendy Wanning, editor, managed to help the other staff members in order to accomplish a successful yearbook this year.

The advertisements helped us make this yearbook. We thank all the parents and businesses for all their donations toward our yearbook. They made it possible for the staff to sell the yearbook to the consumer for a reasonable cost.

The index helps the reader find the specific person he or she is trying to find. We have found in the past the index is very effective.

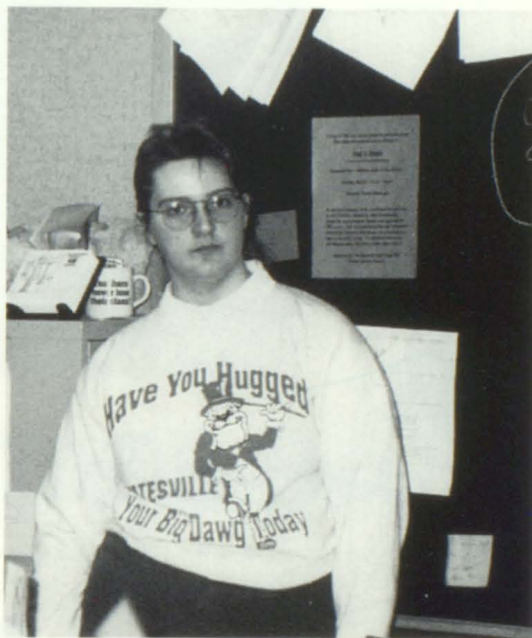

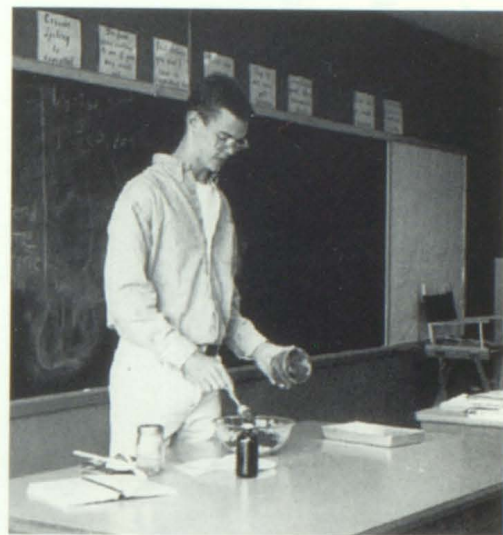

The closing is the very last section of this yearbook, found at the end.

The yearbook staff has done a great job and showed a lot of effort in order to give a wonderful yearbook for everyone. We hope that all the memories in this book last a lifetime.

Dedicated to Service

The Batesville High School yearbook staff would like to dedicate the 1993 yearbook to Mr. E James Hayes. Mr. Hayes dedicated thirty-three years of his life to education, spending nearly twenty-nine of those years at Batesville. Throughout his teaching career at the high school, Mr. Hayes taught English, newspaper, and speech. He also helped with some of the extra-curricular activities offered. Those activities include being the coach of the Debate team, director of the Drama Club and assistant coach of the Academic Team. Mr. Hayes also served as a former department head of English.

Many former students have found that Mr. Hayes's classes helped them in their college studies. English teacher and yearbook advisor, Mrs. Kay Grimsley, commented, "Mr. Hayes was a challenging teacher for students at Batesville High School. He engrossed his classes in classics, such as The Inferno, The Tempest, and Don Quixote, which they will remember forever!" German teacher and head coach of the Academic Team, Mr. Andy Koors, added, "Mr. Hayes was one of the most valuable and misunderstood assets of BHS. A fair proportion of students detested his classes while they were taking it; a much larger percentage realized only in retrospect how invaluable Mr. Hayes's instruction was. His presence will unquestionably be missed more than it was appreciated.

Batesville High School lost a very unique and special teacher in Mr. Hayes this year. He will be greatly missed.

-Gina Raver

E. James Hayes

Even though it looks like the 1992-93 annual staff did nothing but goof around, they worked very hard to create one of the best yearbooks ever. Sprawled out: Stephanie Bergman- Juniors and Nicknames; Angie Niehoff- Juniors and Nicknames; Brandy Lacey- Freshmen and Football; Kelli Tuggle- Cheerleaders and Prices; Jessica Pohlman- Seniors and Baby Pictures; Sitting: Heather Koester- Computer Expert and Sophomores; Angie Kanning- Ads; Gina Raver- Mr. Hayes' Dedication and Girls' Basketball; Angie Hlsrich- Pyramid; Rebecca Fitch- Computer Expert and Boys' Cross Country; Mrs. Kay Grimsley- Advisor; Alberto Perez- Band and Boys' Tennis; Chantel Shane- Boys' Basketball and Division Pages; Beth Hunter- Cheerleaders and Boys' Golf; Nancy Wuestefeld- Drama and Girls' Track; Standing: Shannon Bishop- Vocational School and Choir; Mandi Cavins- Seniors and Prom; Jason Starost- Sophomores; Wendy Wanning- Editor; Kathy Raver- Faculty; Not Pictured: Tim Mehan- Ads and Graduation

Call It My Gratitude

As the last pages of this yearbook are drawing near, I would like to take this time to show my gratitude to the people that helped me in the production of the 1992-93 yearbook. First and most of all, I would like to thank the advisor, Mrs. Kay Grimsley, for all of her help and support and never giving up on me when I wanted to. I would also like to thank Mrs. Roberta Brandes for getting all those different sizes of envelopes, allowing me to use the phone, and keeping track of all our expenses. I would like to thank Krider Studios who took all of the team pictures and most of the sports pictures, and also for developing our student film. Thanks to the Herald Tribune and Mr. Andrew Koors for the numerous pictures they donated to us. A big thank-you goes out to Angela Kessens for designing the artwork for the cover, title page, and for the division pages. Also thanks to Julie Meyer, for writing the poem on the baby pictures page. To all the sports coaches, I take this time to show my appreciation for your understanding and cooperation with team pictures and the candid. Lastly, but certainly not least, my gratitude goes out to the 1992-93 yearbook staff. I couldn't have done it without all of your help. And an extra thanks to anyone I missed. To my graduating class, I want to give a special thank-you for the memories and the friendships, of which I hope this yearbook serves as a reminder. I wish each of you the best of luck in everything you do. May you find the happiness for which you're searching. Finally to Kelli Tuggle, the 1993-94 yearbook editor, I wish you the best of luck with your publication.

-Wendy Wanning

Call It A Year!

On August 26, 1992, students filed into the halls of Batesville High School for the start of a new school year. For some it was the first time; for others it was the last time. On June 4, 1993, the faculty and staff said goodbye to those students, especially the seniors. This yearbook is filled with many memories, yet there are some events that will be remembered that were not part of school.

Before the United States presidential election took place, one could see and hear who was favored as the next president. On November 3, 1992, Bill Clinton was elected from the Democratic party to be the forty-second U.S. president. He took office on January 20, 1993. As one of President Bush's final tasks as president, he sent U.S. troops into Somalia on December 9, 1992, to help fight a civil war.

Locally, the townspeople were shocked to hear that Red's Oasis burned down on January 14, 1993.

United States troops started to send supplies and food to the people of Bosnia on February 28, 1993, since Bosnia's leaders were keeping food from its people.

During the months of February and March, the country was astonished to hear that David Koresch, who thought he was Jesus Christ, had taken his followers to a compound in Waco, Texas. A standoff lasted there until April 19, 1993, when Janet Reno, the U.S. Attorney General, told the FBI to tear gas the facility.

April was also a newsworthy month for America as well as for Batesville. On the 17th, the Rodney King trial was once again in the court. This time jurors tried to decide whether or not the police officers beat King because of racial bias. The jury concluded with a split verdict. Two of the officers were acquitted and two were found guilty. And in Batesville, the Southeastern YMCA opened its doors to the general public.

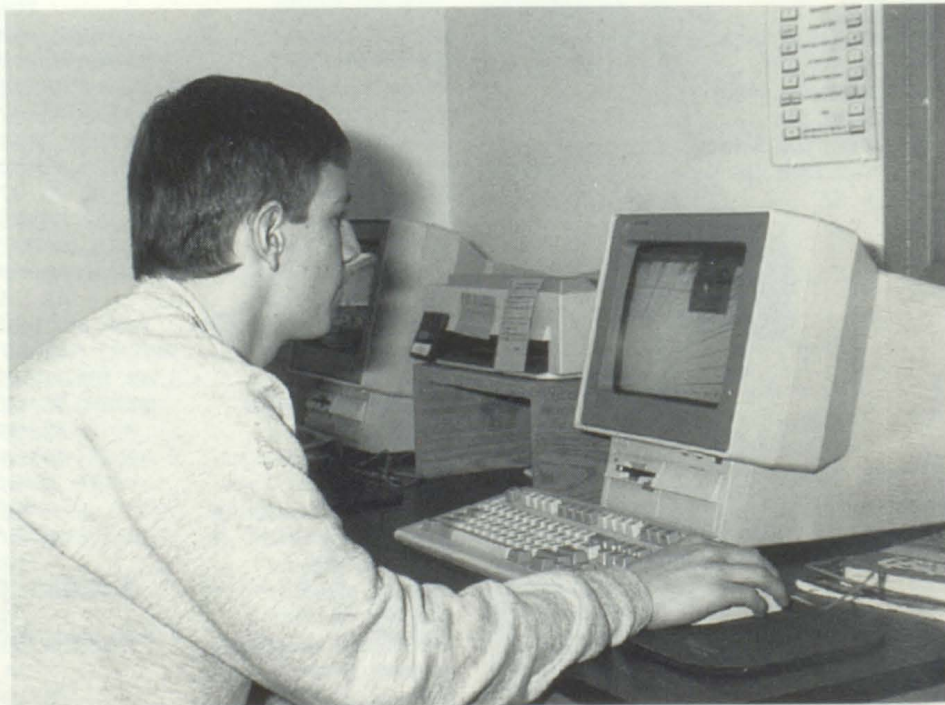

From major newsbreaking events to minor community occurrences, this year was a very busy one for all of us. No matter what level of concern, we covered them so one can remember what happened in the 1992-93 school year.

"It's one for the money. . ." Mrs. Grimsley gets wild and crazy for the student body at the annual Christmas convocation. We all know this is her weekend job!

Sophomore Ryan Krekeler takes a brief moment to log off the main computer system before departing for summer vacation.

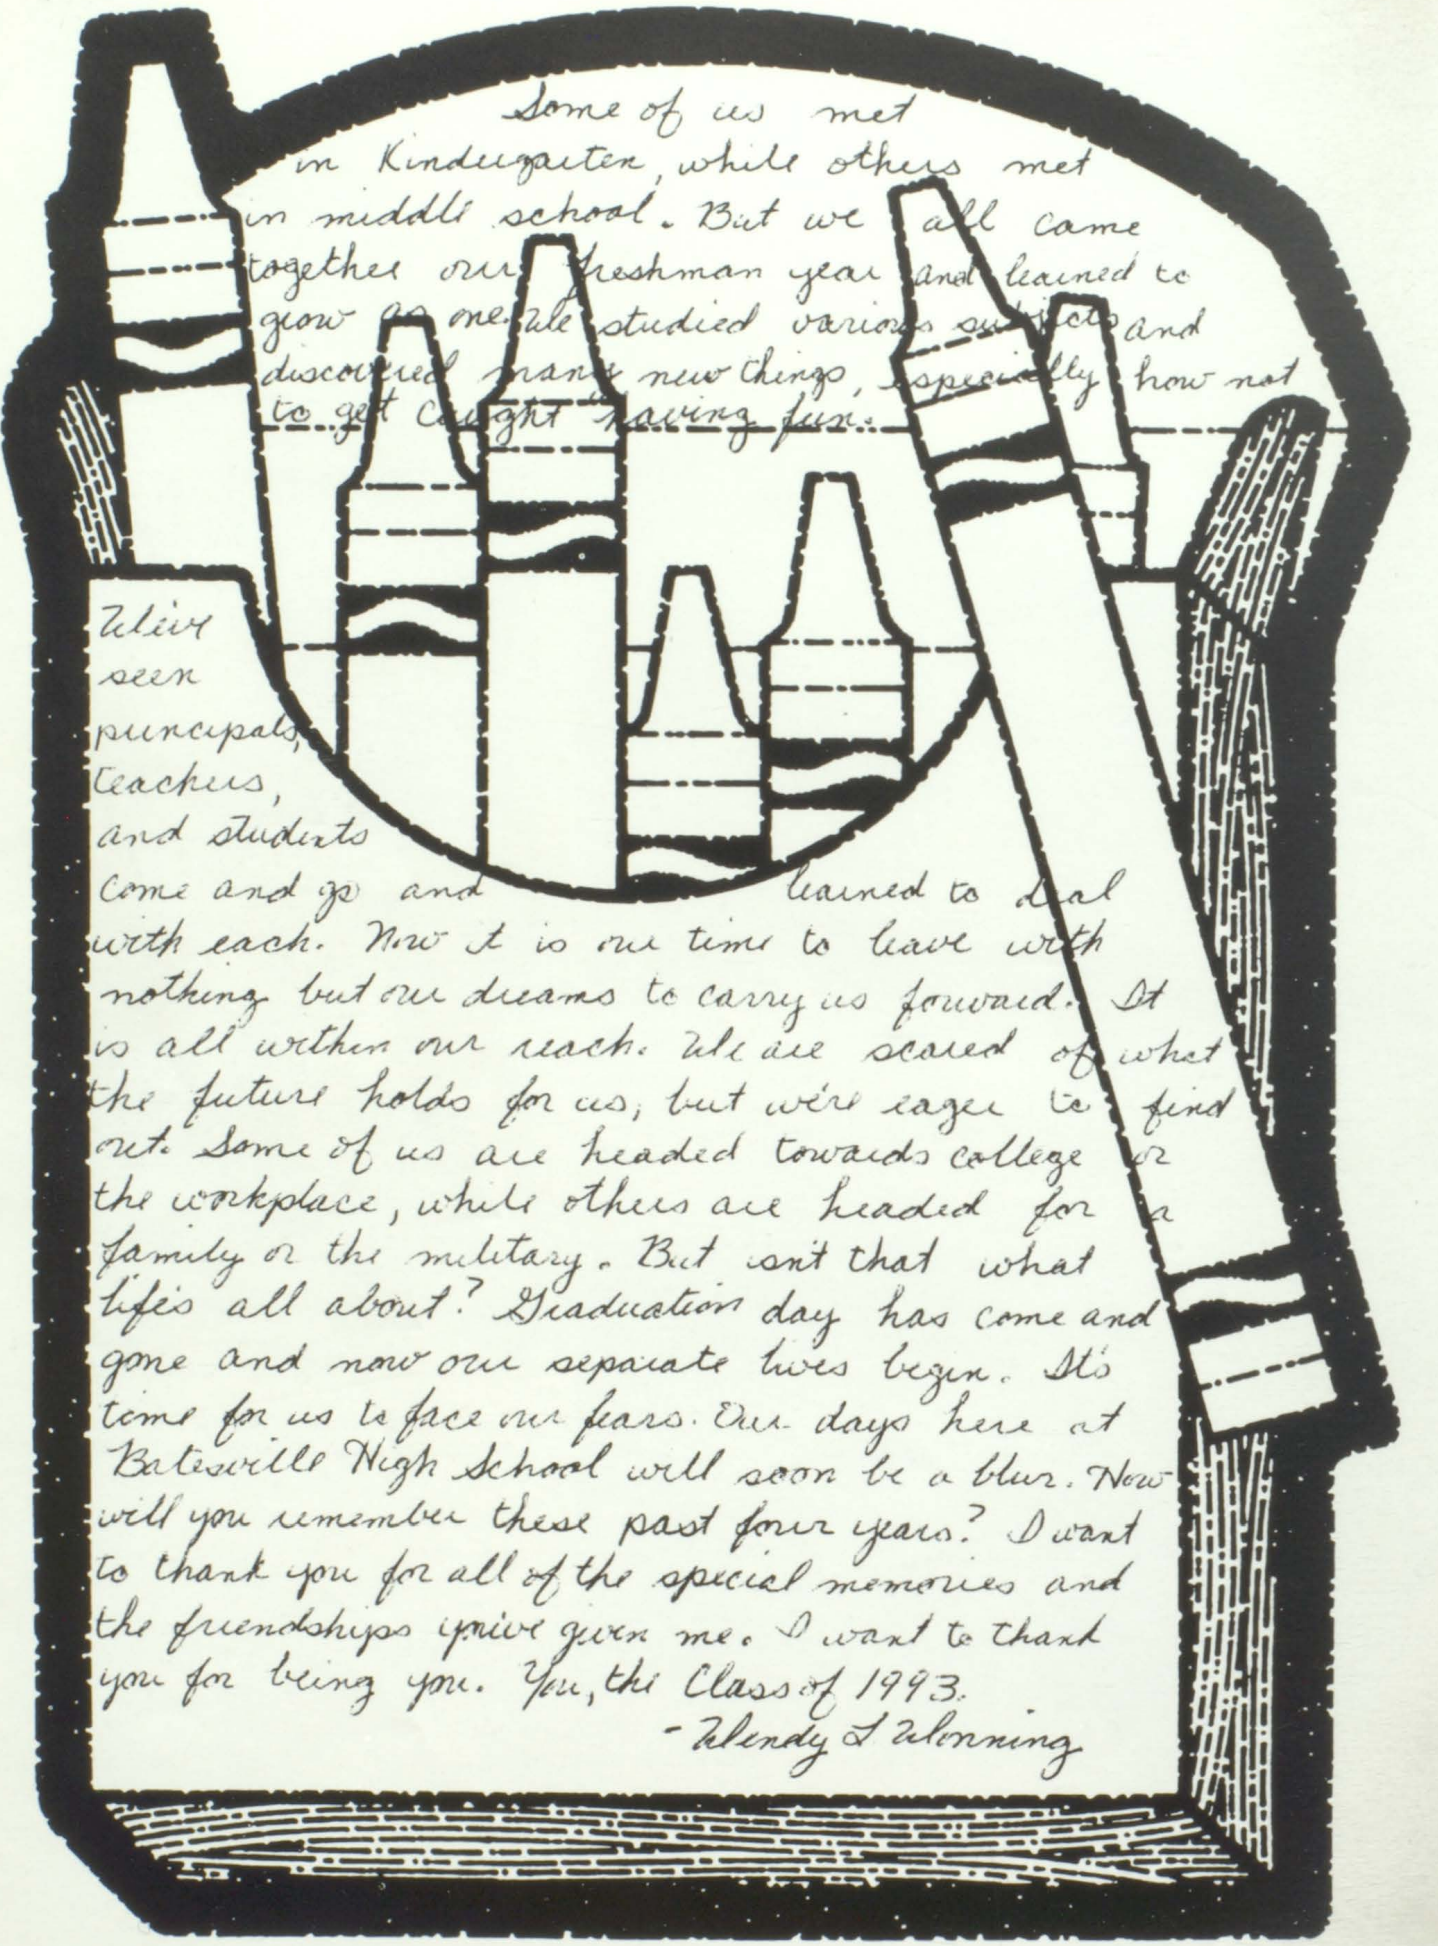

Dustin Nobbe works hard to complete a project for Art I class.

Senior Dennis Wissel plants a tree on Arbor Day with some third grade students.

Some of us met in Kindergarten, while others met in middle school. But we all came together our freshman year and learned to grow as one. We studied various subjects and discovered many new things, especially how not to get caught having fun.

We've seen
principals,
teachers,
and students

Come and go and we've learned to deal with each. Now it is our time to leave with nothing but our dreams to carry us forward. It is all within our reach. We are scared of what the future holds for us, but we're eager to find out. Some of us are headed towards college or the workplace, while others are headed for a family or the military. But isn't that what life's all about? Graduation day has come and gone and now our separate lives begin. It's time for us to face our fears. Our days here at Batesville High School will soon be a blur. Now will you remember these past four years? I want to thank you for all of the special memories and the friendships you've given me. I want to thank you for being you. You, the Class of 1993.
